CHAMBER BUSY WITH PLANS FOR FOURTH OF JULY

NEVADA CITY: Discussion at the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday night centered on plans for the Fourth of July.

Details of a Queen of the Fourth contest were planned. The Elks are to enter a queen candidate, and other organizations are invited to compete. Full information will soon be made known.

"Atmosphere," announced President Paul Bergemann, "will be strictly Fourth of July. with some overtones of Centennial color."

Street decorations, flags and bunting, have been arranged for at a cost of $255.

Bergemann stated that any civic, fraternal, or patriotic organization, or any business house that had not yet received a letter of invitation to enter a float in the parade was invited to contact him, and to enter a float.

The chamber's hand-drawn float in the Auburn Centennial celebration parade attracted much favorable comment. The local chamber was, with the exception of the Auburn chamber, the only chamber of commerce in the area to be represeontd by a float in the parade. It was the only hand-drawn float in the celebration.

Beverly Bates. daughter of Mayor Albert S. Bates, stood on a huge pile of big gilt nuggets on the hand-drawn cart. It was a design conceived many years ago by Elza Kilroy.

Many dances will help make the three day celebration a gala fete. The Elks, George Hansen announced, plan a dance for Saturday, and the Chamber of Commerce plans a street dance for the same time. Coronation of the Queen of the Fourth will probably take place on the balcony of the National Hotel, and tentative plans are being considered to make an elegant ascension to the balcony from a broad flight of stairs constructed direct from the street to the balcony. This idea was suggested by Cedric Porter at an Elk's meeting.

Secretary Harry Ferdinand Sofge stated that he had attended a meeting of the State Chamber of Commerce Highway Committee. He learned there. he said, that the Highway departmet has in the planning stage, a new route for Highway 20 that will by-pass, by a short distance, both Grass Valley and Nevada City.

Sofge was appointed as chamber delegate to attend a meeting held yesterday in the Oakland city hall, at which the state highway commission was to consider developments on the Downieville Highway. Also scheduled to attend the meeting are Downey Clinch, Mrs. Al Irby, and Orlo P. Steele, of this area, and Bert Cassidy, published of the Auburn Journal.

Bergemann announced that 150 street signs of redwood were ready for placement, but they needed to be dipped in linseed oil for preservation.

Mrs. W. G. Wallace, captain of the Sheriff's Possette, stated that her organization would hold a Fourth of July dance, and probably enter a queen in the contest.

HISTORIANS SLATE TWO JUNE MEETINGS

NEVADA CITY: The Nevada County Historical Society hes scheduled two meetings for June, one in Nevada City, June 5th, and another in Rough and Ready three weeks later.

Dr. C.W. Chapman will be the honor guest in the Nevada City Elks Home June 5th at a reception following a dinner.

Mrs. Robert Stueber and Frank A. Fippin of Rough and Ready have arranged a luncheon there for June 25th. The luncheon will be given in Odd Fellows Hall. Part of the original Fippin blacksmith shop is still standing, and the society will make a tour of this and other historical spots in the vicinity. On the anvil of the blacksmith shop Lola Montez once placed Lotta Crabtree, a little girl, to dance and sing.

Another well known landmark is the Slave Girl Tree, so named because a negro slave girl, who came out from the south with a white family. pushed her riding whip, a cottonwood switch, into the earth and it grew. It is now about 75 feet in height. Frank Fippin, one of the committee, was born in Rough and Ready in 1860.

GEORGE HALSTEAD AND VERN GULARTIE

NEVADA CITY: The G and H Drug Store, at the corner of Commercial and Pine Street adds a new and progressive influence to that famous old business section.

George Halstead and Vern Gulartie, the founders of the store, have made rapid progress in increasing their stock and developing their volume of business in a very short time.

GEORGE HALSTEAD

Halstead was born in 1915 in nearby Colfax. He went to Alhambra High School in South Pasadena, and the University of Southern California in Los Angeles. He graduated from U. S. C. with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Pharmacy.

For two years he worked in a pharmacy devoted exclusively to prescriptions. Later he was assistant manager of a Thrifty Drug Store in San Diego.

In 1941, he married Charlotte Love Young of Inglewood. They have one daughter, Katherine Anne, 5, twin boys, George and Berne, 21 months old.

Halstead's hobbies are hunting and fishing. He is president of the Nevada City Sportsman's Club, adjutant of Forest Hill Post, American Legion, a member of the Odd Fellows, Native Sons of the Golden West, Sierra Nevada Chamber of Commerce, Nevada City Chamber of Commerce and North San Juan Chamber of Commerce.

Halstead has great faith in the economic future of this area, and is delighted with the reception which local people have given the G and H Drug Store.

VERN GULARTIE

Vern Jerome Gulartie has led a varied life. Born in 1908, he got his education at various California schools, and spent some years as a farmer in Livermore before he married Mary Agostini of Nevada City in 1934.

At times, he has done cannery work, and for two years raised vegetables on Cement Hill for local markets. At another time, he worked in a service station in Sacramento, and still another, as a type setter in a government printing office.

Before going into the drug business he bought, sold, and trucked shingles in this area.

Like his partner, his hobbies are hunting and fishing and include bowling as well. He is an ardent baseball fan. Gulartie is secretary of the Nevada City Sportsmen's Club, a member of the Native Sons of the Golden West and the Lions Club.

THE - Diary of a 49'er

FROM THE BOOK EDITED BY C. L. CANFIELD

JULY 26, 1851.—Our claim is pretty nearly played out. There may be a month's more work, but the bed-rock raises up on each side of the flat along the hill and there is no gravel in that direction. Pard thinks we had better work together for a couple of weeks and then he will go down on the river to get things ready, leaving me to clean up. If we take out three thousand dollars more I will have made altogether twelve thousand dollars, counting what I have sent home and invested with Pard at the Bay. He got a letter from John Perry, his agent who is looking after the lots, and he tells him he can double his money if he wants to sell, but Pard says: "Let's hold on and make a big stake or nothing." One night last week after supper, we were sitting out under the old tree, when he spoke up suddenly and said: "Alf, there is no reason why I should not tell you part of my story and my real name. I am not ashamed of it and there is no reason why I should conceal it." Then he went on to say that his true name was ——— ——— and that he was born at Syracuse, went through college, studied law and practiced in his own town until he came here. He did not build up much of a business and while he was as poor as Job's off ox he married

NEW YORK, N. Y.—A country of extreme contrasts, as shown by the above pictures, South Africa, once weeks from the U.S., has attracted the interest of big business and the travel-starved American tourist, since it is now less than 44 hours from here via the Pan American World Airways Clippers.

Trekking down the west coast of Africa are thousands of immigrants from war-torn Europe, seeking new homes and jobs in booming South Africa. They're contributing to the rapid development of South Africa as a rich market for the United States; one which pays for U.S. goods with cash on the line, dug from the abundant African gold mines.

The Union government is sponsoring a three point program to foster immigration, encourage tourists and expand industry. Large cities, springing up in the open veldt, establishment of South African subsidiaries by large U.S. manufacturers and the prospect of many American tourists taking advantage of Pan American's magic carpet testify to the success of the program.

NEVADA COUNTY Historical Society Notes

THE STORY OF SWEETLAND
by Ada Perry Landsburg

EDITOR'S NOTE: Ada Perry Landsburg was born in the little town of Sweetland, January 30, 1859. She was the daughter of John and Lydia Perry, and spent many years there as well as in Relief Hill, North Bloomfield, and Nevada City. She and her husband moved to Kuna, Idaho, to be near her daughter, Linda. Some years after her husband passed away, she had the misfortune to fall, and she has been bedridden for more than ten years.

Amusements

In the early days of Sweetland, the only amusement of the grown ups was the dance. At first held in the "Old Dominion', later in the school house on the hill, built in 1863. As the fashion called for hoop skirts for the ladies, often a larger room was needed and Pete Graham would (kindly?) clear his saloon of bar, bottles, etc, which he would install in a tent back of the saloon, and the dance would go merrily on in the saloon building, (sometimes too merrily) as far as the men were concerned. The women then did not drink, at places of amusement, nor did they smoke.

The men found amusement in playing cards, billiards, dice, sometimes going out to Jacob Finisterwald's home on Buckeye Hill where a riotous time was had drinking wine. Jacob had a vineyard and manufactured his own wine. It was said by some that he wore his gumboots, when he trod the grapes, before putting them in the press. This of course may have been only a joke.

Other amusements there were none, as the town was too small to lure traveling troops, so a Christmas tree at Christmas time and a school picnic once a year, usually on the first Saturday in May was held in a group of pines and oak trees about two miles from town.

On three large oaks, swings were put up, games were played by the young people, sometimes older people taking part. Copenhagen, Grace Hoop, Drop the Handkerchief, were the usual games played, and (please do not hold up your hands in horror) they were all kissing games. At noon, lunch was served, sometimes in separate groups, sometimes all on one large table (mother earth) which was beautifully spread with green grass) and covered by the white table spreads, brought by the mothers. After lunch games were in order again, until about 4:00 P. M. Then the long trek home as there were no horses and buggies there. In the evening a dance was enjoyed by older and younger folks as well.

H. O. Hiscox at the age of 17 had acquired enough of an education, four years after his arrival in Sweetland, that he was hired to teach the school at Alleghany. We don't know where he received his education, whether in the school before mentioned, taught by LaRue, or in N. San Juan. He taught at Alleghany one or two terms, then came home and took up the study of law with a member of the Bar at N. San Juan, but was advised by a doctor a few months later to give it up as he had such a retentive memory, it was feared that his health would be impaired with too much study, so he went to work in his father's mine but did not stop studying, but read everything he could get hold of, good, bad and indifferent. He married before he was of age, (21), a daughter of Colonel Abbey of N. San Juan.

When he brought his wife home, among her belongings was a Melodian, the first keyed instrument the writer had ever seen, and it was a great help to the town itself, as far as amusements were concerned. Harrison as he was familiarly called, had somewhere, somehow learned to sing by note, had a good voice, and he took a great interest in the young people of the town. His home was always open to them for singing schools, coaching for concerts, plays etc. Taught the young people of which the writer was one, to sing by note, led them in the singing for the Church, Sunday School, even singing with them and leading them in the singing for funerals. When the old "Melodeon" was not at hand, the tuning fork was used by him, to start us out on the right key. He was ever ready to assist or to lead in anything for the good or pleasure of the community. Many times the old Melodeon was carried to the school house to assist us when giving a concert or play the proceeds of which usually went to the school or some other worthy project. For years the Melodeon was the only instrument in the town save a "fiddle" and banjo used for dances.

2-WEEK VACATIONS IN STATE PARKS

SACRAMENTO: Camping in major parks and beaches of the California Park System during peak summer periods will be restricted to two weeks.

A. E. Henning, chief of the State Division of Beaches and Parks, announced the new policy today, stating that it has been made necessary by the tremendous increase in volume of attendance at State parks.

"State parks and beaches are recreational areas for the enjoyment of the greatest possible number," he said, "and to accommodate the greatest possible number in the more popular parks, it will be necessary to establish these time limits for camping.

Henning added that park rangers have been instructed, hereafter, to deny further admissions for camping when park facilities have reached the saturation point.

Following are the parks affected by the two-week camping period, and the effective periods:

Humboldt County—Richarson Grove, Williams Grove, and Prairie Creek Redwoods, July 1st to August 31st.

Sonoma County — Armstrong Redwoods, May 15th, and effective thereafter the year around.

Placer County—D. L. Bliss and Tahoe Campground, May 15th, and effective thereafter on a year-around basis whenever accessible.

Santa Cruz County—Big Basin Redwoods, June 15th to September 15th. Seacliff Beach, May 1st and effective thereafter the year around.

Monterey County—Pfeiffer Big Sur, June 15 to September 15th.

San Luis Obispo County—Morro Bay and Pismo Beach, June 15th to September 15th.

Santa Barbara County—Carpinteria Beach, June 15th to September 15th.

Orange County—Doheny Beach and San Clemente Beach, June 1st to September 6th.

WORLD WAR 2 VETERAN ENDORSED BY V. F. W. BUSINESS LEADER

WILLIAMS TO HEAD THURMAN CAMPAIGN IN NEVADA COUNTY

GRASS VALLEY: State Senator Allen G. (Scoop) Thurman of Colfax, who served the 7th Senatorial District in the California State Legislature during the recent budget term and the Sixth Assembly District for nine previous in the house, was in Grass Valley recently, and Nevada City in the interest of his candidacy for the Republican and Democratic nominations at the June 1 consolidated primary election.

During his business visit here, the legislator announced that Elton Williams of Grass Valley would again serve as Nevada County campaign chairman.

Senator Thurman was elected last November to fill the unexpired term of former State Senator J. L. Seawell, who was elevated to the State Board of Equalization by popular vote, and at the June 1 election is asking to return to the office for the fully prescribed four year senatorial term.

A veteran legislator of the lower house for four and one half terms and acquainted with all legislators on the friendliest of terms, Senator Thurman did not enter the Senate a stranger, but rather an associate in legislation. This was attested by his quick appointment to the four important committees of: Education, Public Health, Fish and Game and Local Government, four committees which above all others carry the major interests of the counties of Nevada, Placer and Sierra. The appointment of Thurman to these committees was in line with his membership on equally iportant and powerful committees of the assembly.

During Senator Thurman's long tenure in the assembly in which he represented 10 counties, it was said of him that he attended to the interests and affairs of each the district's communities. as though he were a resident of that particular county. In his new job in the State Senate, the able Colfax legislator assures the voters that while representing the state of California as a whole his position as Seventh District Senator will be as though he were a resident of Roseville, Nevada City, Sierra City or any other of

In recent legislation of benefit to the rural, mountain or "cow counties," Senator Thurman's vote has been found in favor of the Burns-Collier bill for greater allocation of highway funds to the rural districts, greater in lieu tax returns from the state treasury; greater allocation of liquor license fees to the source of collection and equal educational opportunities for the young people through greater ADA appproprias tions.

With a four year term assured. State Senator Thurman states that he knows he can do an outstanding job for the people. He is already well established in legislative circles; possesses the "know how" of legislative procedure and has the friendship of the men and women, which compose the California Stat Legislature.

In the next five weeks he plans an extensive, diligent campaign in three counties and hopes to meet the rank and file of the voting public.

Mountain Area Has Great Possibilities, Says Candidate

JACKSON: Melvin L. Pierovich, of Jackson, candidate for Member of the Assembly, Sixth Assembly District, today issued the following statement:

"In travelling over the Sixth Assembly District in recent weeks I have been impressed with the vigor and growth of this area which in this and the ensuing two years is celebrating, in many colorful gatherings, the Centennial of the discovery of gold, the influx of the pioneers and the admission of California to statehood. Some are inclined to look on the Mother Lode as having passed its prime and settling down to the contemplation of its past glories but I am now more than ever convinced that to these hills and mountains will come ever increasing numbers of people to live and to develop its great commercial and industrial possibilities.

"Mining, which was the original source of our wealth, far from being exhausted, will, I believe, witness a renaissance not only in gold, of which there is vastly more yet underground than has ever been taken out, but in many other minerals whose presence and possibilities are just now coming to be realized.

"As roads open our vast and as yet undeveloped areas I am sure many yet untapped mineral deposits will be uncovered which can be worked with profit, and toward the betterment and extension of roads throughout the counties of the Sixth Assembly District, I will, if elected, use my best endeavors."

Teen-Age Pie Baking Champions

"SARGE" REYNOLDS IN BID FOR VOTE

TRUCKEE: B. W. Reynolds, candidate for the state assembly from the sixth district, this week stated that "in my opinion, there are three things vital to the interests of the people I seek to represent in the state legislature: roads, natural rsources and taxes.

"On the subject of roads, I feel my 18 years with the state highway patrol qualify me to speak with some authority. I believe that there are many roads throughout the mountain area, now a tax burden on the taxpayers, which rightly should be supported in the state highway system. These roads are used by thousands of vacationists and out-of-the-district interests and they should bear their fair share of the cost of maintenance and improvement. The limited budgets of small local governments cannot adequately maintain these roads in the face of increasing use.

"Our natural resources—water, fish and game, forests and mining—are the source of all prosperity in the sixth district and that prosperity is in direct ration to the abundance or scarcity of these resources. As the representative of this district I would strive to protect the people in the district against any encroachments on their rights. We believe in sharing what we have, but I do not believe that outside interests, by sheer weight of numbers, should be in a position to arbitrarily confiscate our resources to the detriment of the economy of the communities in which these resources are located.

"On the subject of taxation, I believe in lower taxes. Who doesn't? But any tax reduction should be studied carefully to determine the effects it would have on the public services it supports. Our government does not function from any magic money tree, but must be supported by our tax dollars. In my opinion, a survey should be made into public services and where added economy is in the public interest, let's have that economy. But where a vital public service is being rendered and the taxpayer is receiving full value on his tax dollar, we cannot effectively reduce the revenue without doing great harm to the people who pay the taxes. In other words, vigilance in appropriating tax revenue should result in such reductions as are feasible and in insuring that this money is spent wisely."

WATCH TIRE INFLATION

Never drive with tires that are improperly inflated, advises National Automobile Club. To drive under-inflated tires causes rapid wear, cuts, punctures, blow-outs, hard stering, and an excessive use of gasoline. over-inflation causes hard riding and disrupts, strains, and fatigues the tire carcass.

MINING CLAIM ASSESSMENT WORK MAY BE SUSPENDED

By H. P. Davis

Word from Washington that a House Public Lands Subcommittee had, on May 17, approved a bill to suspend mining claim assessment work until July 1, 1948 in the continental United States is welcome news to the great number of holders of mining locations in this area.

We had known that requirement of assessment work in Alaska had been suspended for some weeks. Usually well informed mining men have predicted that the suspension would be extended to cover unpatented claims in the States. It now appears that the chances are favorable that such suspension will be granted. We should be deeply grateful to our Representatives in Congress who have advocated this action.

The high ratio of employment at high wages, and the consequent difficulty of securing experienced men for such work, has contributed to the reluctance of owners of mining locations to resume assessment work this season—the expenditure of $100 worth of labor on each claim.

Suspension Since 1942

By the moratorium act of May 7, 1942, assessment work was suspended as a war measure and since that date we have held our claims by paying county taxes and N. I. D. assessments, averaging $25 to $35 a year, and by filing in the office of the County Recorder, a notice of intent to hold them under the Act.

The Congress has held that no further suspension of annual assessments will be granted but if the bill just approved by the subcommitte is enacted we will have at least another year from July 1, 1948 during which the owners of unpatented mining claims will not be required to perform this work .

Congress on several occasions has declared moratoriums on assessment work either as wartime measures or during periods of depression. The annual labor requirement was suspended by act of Congress in 1893 and 1894 by two separate acts. During the first World War the requirement was suspended from 1917 to 1919 and the time for doing the 1920 work was extended to July 1, 1921. Again, in 1931, the requirement was suspended because of the "depression" and the suspension continued during the depression years 1932, 1933 and 1934. (During 1933-34 this suspension applied only to those who were exempt from the payment of federal income tax.)

I will not here enter into a discussion of the merits of the federal provisions for requirement of annual assessment work or the suspension threof, but I must call attention to one feature of the law which is, or should be, of interest to the people of Nevada County, particularly to those who are interested in its history.

A Document of Great Historical Interest

Among the records in the office of the Recorder of Nevada County in the County Court House at Nevada City is an original holograph document of outstanding historical interest. It is the official record of the adoption, here in Nevada City on December 20, 1852, of the QUARTZ REGULATIONS OF NEVADA COUNTY, CALIFORNIA. In it is included: "Article 4, Work to the extent of one hundred dollars in value, or twenty days of faithful labor, shall be performed by each company (or individual) holding claims . . ."

This provision was incorporated in the United States Mining Act of Congress in 1866 and has been retained in the present United States mining laws.

Another significant provision in this local law of 1852 is contained in Article 2 which specifies that "Each claim shall include all the dips angles, and variations of the vein." This is the origin of the "Apex Law" which as adopted in the U. S. Mining Act of 1872 provides "extralateral rights." Exclusive right of possession of . . . all veins, coves and ledges throughout their entire depth, the top or apex of which lies inside such surface lines of such surface locations."

Have we found another "first" for which we may claim credit for Nevada City?

NOISE IN UNIVERSALS

"Noise under the floor when the car is coasting with the clutch disengaged may be a clue to wear in the universal joints," states L. G. Evans, General Service Manager for National Automobile Club.

HOW DOES CAR ROLL

On level ground, the well lubricated car on which the brakes are not sticking, should be fairly easy to roll by hand. If it is not, lubrication, brakes, and tire pressures might be checked to advantage.

*HUGE REPLICA OF GREAT SEAL FOR CENTENNIAL CELEBRATIONS

A three dimensional replica of the Great Seal of California, towering over thirteen feet in height, will dominate two gigantic floats now being constructed by the California Centennials Commission for use in observances of the State's one-hundredth birthday.

The identical floats, expected to be completed by July 1, will be available for participation in various civic commemorative parades. One float will be assigned to the northern part of the State, the other to Southern California.

Symbolizing California's "Gold Era", the gold and bronze colored floats depicting miniature replicas of Sutter's Fort and Sutter's Mill, will feature groups of figures representing miners of all types and nationlities present in California during the gold rush.

The trailer floats will be thirty-one feet in length and eight feet wide. They will be drawn by specially constructed jeeps equipped with public address units. To insure permanency of the floats, the structural sections will be constructed of metal and hard wood.

Authorization for this project, as a part of its three year program, was given by the State centennials commission at a recent meeting.

The floats have been designed by William Sanford and Al Violante of San Francisco. The figures will be sculptured by Al Debond, formerly sculpturer for the Belgium Opera and the San Francisco Opera Association.

LEGION RAPS WOODLEAF UNIT

GRASS VALLEY: Hague-Thomas-Hagerty Post, American Legion, at its recent meeting passed the following resolution condemning the Woodleaf Co-operative Sustained Yield Unit as monopolistic and discriminatory.

The resolution follows:

WHEREAS, it has come to the attention of the Hague-Thomas-Hagerty Post No. 130 of the American Legion, that there is proposed in the National Forest Area, the Woodleaf Co-operative Sustained Yield Unit, an agreement by and between the Chief of the United States Forest Service and the Soper-Wheeler Company and/or the Sacramento Box and Lumber Company, and

WHEREAS, it appears that the Act is entirely monopolistic and discriminatory in favor of the Grantee, and

WHEREAS, Public Law No. 273 as intended, will definitely interfere with free enterprise and our basic American Plan of Living, and

WHEREAS, it is possible that similar Sustained Units may be established in Nevada County.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that Hague-Thomas Hagerty Post No. 130 of the American Legion hereby officially goes on record as opposing the Woodleaf Sustained Yield Unit, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the United States Forest Service and other Governmental Agencies concerned with administration of Public Land, cause such timber and natural resources to be available to the public on equal terms.

Dated this 18th day of May, 1948.

BUILD NEVADA COUNTY

SALVATION ARMY APPEALS TO PUBLIC

By Adj. Henry Hotvedt, Commander

This month is our annual plea for financial support. Once a year we ask the people of Nevada County for money to carry out the social program in your county. You like the Army to do that work and, because of the social side of our work program, you like us.

Remember, to carry out your wishes in helping the ones in need, we want to remind you that that takes hard cash. We depend on our friends to help us. Will you do that. We are asking $5,000 from the people of Nevada County, a very small quota from such a large district if everyone will take part. Let your conscience be your guide when considering the need of the day.

Yes, we need everybody's support in order to do what you expect of us. I am pleading on behalf of your county; let us make it the best in the West. Bring or send your donations to the Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce or to the Salvation Army Headquarters at 134 South Auburn Street. Please mark all checks "The Salvation Army."

If you live in the city of Grass Valley, you will be glad to know that Dr. B. J. Powell and committee representing the Lions Club will call on all business men on Main Stree, Auburn and Church Streets, also part of Neal Street. Mr. Louis Hartman will call on all businessmen in Hill's Flat. Mr. Bob Roesner and committee representing the Rotary Club will call on all business men on Mill Street, part of Bank and Neal Streets.

If you live in Nevada City, Mr. Ed Franz and committee representing the Rotary Club will call on all business men on Broad Street and all streets south of Broad. Mr. Bill French and committee of the Lions Club will call on all business men north of Broad Street, e. g. Commercial and all treets from the North leading into Broad, etc. These gentlemen calling on you will make it a pleasure for you to donate to your local Salvation Army. Just greet them with a smile and the biggest donation you have ever given to any social cause.

Miss Elma Hecker and committee will call on all ladies and gentlemen employed in the Couty Courthouse. May I suggest that we all get behind these Ladies and gentlemen who so kindly and willingly help us to make this drive the best yet.

You will also be glad to know that 88% of this money will remain in your county. Yes, we are local. Just the kind of service you like to support. Stand by and help us do the job in the Sierra style, the only way to do it well.

Make it your business to see that the Salvation Army is receiving your full support.

Again we remind you to mark your checks "The Salvation Army" and send in care of Louis Hartman, Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce, or to our Headquarters, 134 South Auburn Street, Grass Valley.

All people calling on you for your annual donation for the Salvation Army will have official receipt books or collecting lists signed by myself to prove that they are representing the Army. We have ladies also who will call upon the folk in the residential districts. Let us do it well . . .

JOHNSON STATES CAMPAIGN STAND

ROSEVILLE: Harold Johnson, candidate for State Senator, has made the following statement of his plans and beliefs:

In seeking to be elected Senator of the 7th district I fully realize the responsibility that I would assume. With that responsibility in mind, I believe I can represent the people of the district in the manner to which they are entitled.

I have given much time to the needs and the problems of each community, becoming interested therein because of my several years' service in city and school government in the City of Roseville. The needs of our district, together with State and Federal affairs are issues which must be coordinated to make a complete picture, with each governmental agency taking its proper place and attaining the highest possible level of accomplished and acquired need.

I have always believed in a program which would, in my opinion, most benefit the people of this district and fit into a State and Federal program.

In brief my main objectives would be to:

Promote the welfare of our youth. Naturally that would include the needs of their school, home and recreational life; better pay for their teachers; a workable free text book program; supervised recreational activities and proper health supervision.

Find ways and means for the acquisition of public utilities for cities and districts, should they be desired by individual communities.

Thoroughly study and sponsor legislation for veteran aid, especially as it has to do with the housing problem and the unsatisfactoy condition now existing.

Work for the completion of the Central Valleys Project with its vast resources in water and power. In my opinion, this is one of the most important projects to each and every community and to every person in the state. This project and others of its kind, which are feasible and necessary, I would support and do all in my power to bring to full completion and use.

Work for better health conditions and hospital facilities in our district.

Work with representatives of the various districts or individual persons in studying the needs of a community in order to reflect their views and bring them before the Legislature for necessary action.

Take an aggressive part in a program of economy in all branches of government to relieve the taxpayer of all superficial and unnecessary burdens.

I realize that there are many more vital issues to be considered during a session of the Legislature too numerious and yet unknown to be discussed here. Some may be very desirable—others undesirable. Having in mind to do that which would bring the most good to the greatest number, if you see fit to elect me as your representative in the Senate, I promise you fortitude, untiring and conscientious effort to fight for the things you want.

I am not seeking this office just to "beat" my opponent. I want to win because I have faith in the things I want for my district, because my program is constructive and progressive and I want the opportunity to work hard to bring good living laws to my district.

May I ask for your vote on June 1st.

a girl who had considerable money in her own right, He loved her dearly, but she was extravagant, fond of society and luxury, which he could not afford from his own income, and she would not settle down until he could make his way. Then they began quarreling and she nagged him about her money and her family until he could not stand it any longer and, the gold fever breaking out, he left for California. He had made up his mind never to go back until he had as much money as his wife, and, if he failed, why then he would disappear for good. She thought he was in San Francisco, wrote to him there and the letters were forwarded by a friend to Nevada. For some time past she has been coaxing him to return or let her come here, and he had promised to go to the States next spring. That is all there was to the story. He did not say much about what she was writing, but I knew from the change in him that things were different from what they were when I first met him, and he was pretty happy over it. Of course, he would have to keep the name of Anderson until he left Nevada, as he could not explain the situation to anyone but me. I can see now why he used to be so sarcastic about the troubles women could make. I hope it will come out all right.

While Jackson's frank revelations concerning himself, his experiences, loves and adventures can with safety be given to the world, as he and his kin have vanished into the unknown, the name that he reveals as the rightful one of his partner is another matter. It is that of one who stood among the foremost at the San Francisco Bar and high in the councils of the State; famous and successful as a pleader in many of the noted cases before the courts, an orator of persuasive eloquence and, withal, a man of fortune. He has been dead many years, but his immediate descendants are living in California enjoying the fruits of his wealth and the benefits of his honorable name. While there is nothing disgraceful in the episode, still it is a chapter in his domestic affairs in which the hero must remain unidentified.

WATCH THIS HAZARD

Many pedestrians are killed yearly while walking along rural highways, the vast majority of them at night, declare officials of National Automobile Club's Public Safety Department. The unwariness of the walker on the darkened road is a challenge to the motorist to be more wary. A first step is to keep headlamps adjusted to provide a maximum of illumination.

Veterans News

The number of World War II veterans enrolled in school or taking on-the-job training in the Veterans Administration Branch 12 area (California, Arizona, Nevada and Hawaii) jumped from 12,000 to more than 200,000 in two years time.

The more than 200,000 veterans taking advantage of the educational and job-training provisions of the G. I. Bill and Public Law 16, for disabled veterans, in February of this year, represents an increase of 1,500 per cent over two years ago.

This year the state of California showed the greatest increase in the nation in the number of veterans entering training and and VA officials do not expect the registration of veterans in school to reach the peak until the spring of 1949.

Cost of the educational and job-training program in the Branch 12 area is roughly one million dollars month for tuition and books and six million dollars a month for subsistence allowances, VA records reveal.

More than 2,500,000 veterans were taking G. I. Bill training in the nation's schools and job-training establishments by the end of 1947. Of the total, a record number of 2,014.821 were enrolled in educational institutions.

At the same time, nearly 256,000 disabled veterans were enrolled in all types of training under Public Law 16. About 147,000 of these were in schools, colleges and universities and the remanng 108,706 were training on-the job.

QUESTION: I have completed my job-training course and find that I still have entitlement left under the educational provisions of the G. I. Bill. Will I be permitted to go to another school for the remainder of my entitlement?

ANSWER: If you have entitlement time left, you may use the remainder either for job-training or for educational training with Veterans Administration prior approval.

QUESTION: How are places of job-training approved under the G. I. Bill and how does a veteran find out what establishments are approved?

ANSWER: Training establishments are approved by state approving agencies for job-training under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (G.I. Bill). All VA offices maintain a list of approved establishments in the area which they are located.

Reception For Grand Pres.

NEVADA CITY: The reception given Doris Treat, grand president of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, of San Andreas, Calaveras County, on Wednesday evening, May 5th, was marked by a profusion of flowers.

Lilac blossoms filled the lounge of the National Hotel reminding the descendants of pioneer mothers that these shrubs were brought across the plains by their grandmothers in the wagon trains.

The grand president and the president of Laurel Parlor, Sarah Charonnet, led the march to the banquet room, to the melody of "I Love You California." Louise Wales of Manzanita Parlor was pianist. A full course turkey dinner was served on tables beautifully decorated with flowers in blue ,white and yellow.

The grand president gave an inspiring talk on the pioneer mothers, telling of the hardships they endured, their high courage, and their sorrows.

Fifty-year pins were awarded Mrs. Mary Ogden, Mrs. Lena Calanan and Mrs. Minnie Hooper. On the following day the grand president presented Ms. Freida Ronchie of Folsom, who was unable to be pesent, with a 50-year pin.
